DESIGN OF PUBLIC STREETS

Regent Park sidewalks were not designed to accommodate two-way traffic. Individuals would need to walk around one another and recycling units. Roadways were designed to only provide space for traveling vehicle, therefore not allowing any room for cyclist leaving them in danger.

PUBLIC ART

Members in the community have expressed a great interest in the public art in Regent Park, unfortunately due to the demolishing of the area most of the artwork was destroyed. Some will be conserved and relocated.

PUBLIC NEEDS

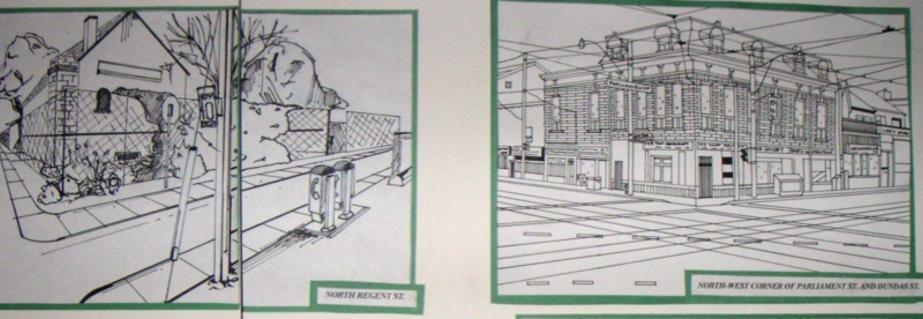

We believe that Regent Park lacks the requirements that are needed in a community. Cyclists resort to using stop signs to secure their bicycles. Sitting areas are not provided for people to relax, and not enough telephone booths are available.

PARK

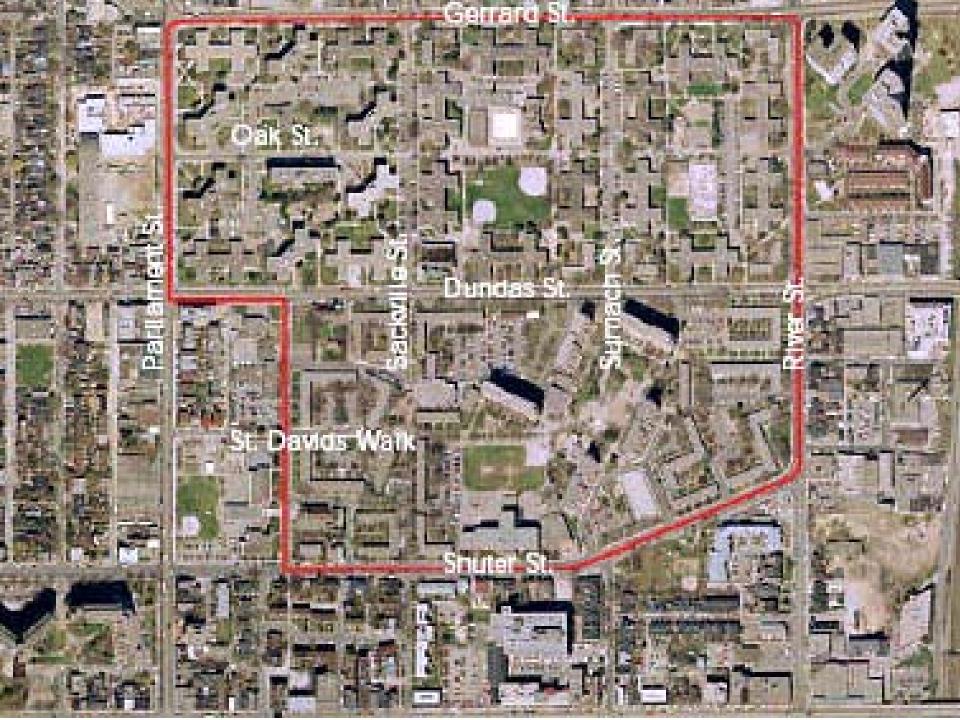

"Many of us no longer understand the wonderful simplicity of a garden. We rely on garden stores and landscapers to provide us with vegetables and beautiful flowers. Better yet most of us do not appreciate the benefiting labour from something we made with our own hands.

The people of Regent Park understand the benefits of a true garden..."
