EXAMPLE

The screenshot shows a product page on the Staples website. At the top left is the Staples logo. Below it is a search bar with the text "Search for products, services and a". To the right of the search bar are icons for location, user profile, shopping cart, and a menu. A yellow banner at the top right says "Product Details". Below the search bar is a breadcrumb trail: "< On-Ear Headphones". A red "Hot Buy" badge is present. The product name is "Sony Noise Cancelling Over-Ear Headphones, Black". Below the name is a star rating of 4.5 out of 5 stars with 40 reviews. The price is "$49.99" in a yellow box, with an "Eco Fee: $0.90" below it. A large image of the black headphones is shown. To the right of the image is a description: "Get lost in the music at home, at work or on your commute with these Sony Noise Cancelling Headphones. Featuring innovative technology, these headphones intelligently scan your environment for ambient noise to provide up to 95% noise-cancelling sound no matter where you are. These headphones also deliver a balanced, powerful sound quality for a better listening experience that enhances the sound of each song or piece of music. The padded over-ear style provides a comfortable fit while the non-tangle cord and folded, swivel design make it easy to take these headphones with you on-the-go." Below the description are two bullet points: "• Innovative Noise Cancelling technology takes an intelligent analysis of ambient background noise to provide up to 95% noise-free audio" and "• Features 30mm driver units to deliver full, balanced sound from 10-22,000 Hz for a better listening experience". At the bottom right is a red "ADD TO CART" button and a heart icon for wishlists.
