Toronto Metropolitan University is in the “Dish with One Spoon” territory.

Our university's campuses in Toronto and Brampton operate on the Treaty Lands of the Mississaugas of the Credit. This land has been part of the traditional territories of the Mississauga, Anishinaabe, Huron-Wendat and Haudenosaunee. They are now home to many First Nations Peoples, Inuit and Métis from across Turtle Island. We honour and uphold the Dish with One Spoon Treaty, we commit to valuing the Two Row Wampum, and we vow to treat the land and people of our community with understanding built on mutual respect.

Ease into first year

Success is easier with support. In your first year, our Fit for Business transition program will empower you to achieve academic, career and personal success by connecting you to community, services, resources and events beyond the classroom. Here, you'll make lifelong friends from day one in your TedPack, a group of students in the same program as you.

You'll also discover the Program Advising and Student Success (PASS) office, which offers curriculum advising and learning strategies, free writing and mathematics support, and one-on-one guidance — in your first year and beyond.

See how you'll get Fit for Business at torontomu.ca/trsm-fit-for-business.

Meet your community

It's not every day that you find a competitive business school with such a collaborative community. At the Ted Rogers School, you'll join a student body that's warm, welcoming and inclusive — one that wants to see you succeed every bit as much as your professors do. You'll join student groups where you can work and play, and explore wellness spaces where you can relax and regroup. You'll find awards and scholarships designed to support your aspirations and attend events geared toward ensuring your success. From personal to academic to professional support and more, it's all available to you when you become a Ted Rogers School student.

The co-op journey

You can apply for co-op directly through the OUAC or, depending on your major, at the end of your first or second year. Here's an example of how your co-op work term sequencing could look.

Year	Fall	Winter	Summer
1	1st semester	2nd semester	Apply for co-op
2	3rd semester	4th semester	Work term I
3	5th semester	Work term II	6th semester
4	Work term III	7th semester	Work term IV
5	8th semester	—	—

Example only. Co-op sequencing varies by program.

Co-op Prep Program

Before even beginning your first co-op work term, you'll build the professional hard and soft skills you need to thrive on the job, from networking to using Excel and from job hunting to interviewing.

Level up your learning

Exclusive networking events. Industry prep programs. One-to-one coaching. Connections to alumni who are working in your field. In-demand Bootcamps and digital certifications. Thousands of co-op postings through our unique job portal — plus industry insights to help you seal the deal.

The Business Career Hub has supported thousands of students in building thriving careers and has a full range of professional development opportunities designed to help you to level up, too.

In addition to in-person offerings, you can access flexible, self-paced learning options through an online platform that offers a range of bootcamps and career-focused workshops, empowering you to build skills anytime, anywhere.

Go global

Enhance your business school experience — and expand your personal and professional network exponentially — by going abroad. Through an enriching international exchange opportunity, you'll explore the world, be exposed to new languages and cultures, and gain the kinds of cross-cultural skills modern employers are looking for.

Travel confidently knowing that you won't fall behind: whether it's for a semester or a full year, you'll receive full academic credit, keeping you on a track to graduate as planned. Even better, you'll pay the same tuition as you do at home, with no added international tuition fees during your exchange.
