

States, Programs, Pathways, and Measurements

Chika Sophia Agbo, Toronto Metropolitan University

Abstract

Since introducing Provincial Nominee programs in 1998, it has continued to expand, and its allocation is expected to surpass the Federal Express Entry System by the end of 2023. The Provincial Nominee Program has increased the role of the provinces in selecting immigrants to Canada. This paper presents an overview of the Provincial Nominee Program.

Biography

Chika Sophia Agbo is a third-year Ph.D. candidate and a Teaching Assistant in the Department of Economics at Toronto Metropolitan University. She is also a Graduate Student Researcher and a scholar at the Canadian Excellence Research Chair in Migration and Integration (CERC). She received her Master's in International Economics and Finance from the abovementioned institution. She graduated as one of the top five students in her class and won the Economic MA Research Award for producing the best research project. Her primary fields are Development and Labour Economics.