

PRX Print, a busy and growing label manufacturer with a fast paced, yet casual team environment, has an excellent opportunity for an individual ideally a graduate of the Graphic Arts & Communications Program, as a full-time DIGITAL LABEL PRESS OPERATOR. This is a hybrid role combining graphic design, colour matching on Illustrator and on press, prepress file preparation and mechanical and hands-on label production. You will be part of our high-performance production team, operating a digital printing press to produce high-quality, on-time pressure sensitive labels. For the right individual, there will also be opportunity to contribute through graphic design, prepress, using the finishing machinery, and learning to use new equipment that we plan to procure.

Ideal candidates will have a graphic design background, and either hands-on experience in wide or narrow-format digital print production (ie Primera/Mark Andy/Xeicon/Canon/Konica-Minolta/HP/Mimaki) and a desire and ability to learn to operate a digital press. Candidates should also have a keen eye for colour and details, colour matching proficiency ideally using Adobe Illustrator/Photoshop, be able to lift up to 75lbs, be quality conscious and a team player, and able to stand throughout most of the workday. Candidates must also have a solid command of English (speaking/reading) to interpret production orders and work with our customer service team for job quality signoffs.

This is an amazing opportunity to be a valued contributor and make a difference! Preference will be given to candidates who have a minimum of two-years related education or related work experience showing job stability and reliability.

In return, we offer a stable consistent work schedule in a friendly and professional environment, very competitive pay, early Fridays year round, a comprehensive employee benefits package (medical/dental/extended medical benefits), paid vacation and a pleasant working atmosphere. References will be required.

Please send your resume to dgilbert@prxprint.com

NO TELEPHONE CALLS PLEASE. We will contact those candidates whose backgrounds are ideal for this opportunity.
