

Research Snapshot

Exploring virtual reality experiences of slum tourism

Tom Griffin and Meghan Muldoon

Process

- This exploratory study draws from interviews with 16 participants who declared an interest in slum tourism
- Immediately following a VR slum tour, participants were asked for reactions and reflections

Results

- Participants had their understandings of slum communities both reinforced and challenged
- Most participants felt more inspired, confident, and comfortable to take part in a tour

Visit htmresearch.ca for more

Griffin, T., & Muldoon, M. (2020). Exploring virtual reality experiences of slum tourism. Tourism Geographies, 1-20.
doi:10.1080/14616688.2020.1713881

