Ryerson University Senate 2010-11

President's Update for the meeting of: October 5, 2010

Welcome – It is a privilege to welcome new and returning members of the University Senate to the 2010-11 academic session. We look forward to working together, and appreciate your input and dedication. Special thanks to everyone involved in the Senate Orientation, and best wishes for an engaging and productive year.

Farewell Linda Grayson – A reception honouring Dr. Linda Grayson for her contributions to Ryerson over 17 years as Vice-President Administration and Finance overflowed with tributes and thanks from colleagues and friends, including past members of the community who came back for the occasion. Linda's leadership and exemplary partnership has achieved transformative developments at Ryerson, with an inspiring personal dedication and enthusiasm for excellence and the university spirit.

Julia Hanigsberg appointed Vice-President Administration and Finance – As announced in Ryerson Today, (see http://www.ryerson.ca/ryersontoday/president/20100901_vpfa.html), our present university general counsel and secretary to the Board of Governors has been appointed Vice-President Administration and Finance effective October 1st. Julia brings to the position a wide range of significant expertise and experience both at the university and externally, and we look forward to working together on continuing to advance momentum on Ryerson priorities. A search for a new General Counsel and Secretary of the Board will be undertaken in the new year.

Student Orientation – The energy of Ryerson students launched the new academic year with vigour and pride. Among many highlights, it is especially notable how dramatically the closure of Gould Street has worked for the university in defining a natural campus centre. As well, this year marks the 50th anniversary of the Ryerson Parade, and in the Kerr Hall gym one of the largest crowds in history cheered on the victorious Rams in the orientation week basketball game. Special thanks to the dedicated orientation team for exceptional organization and spirit.

New Faculty – This Fall we are proud to welcome nearly thirty new tenure stream faculty to Ryerson, bringing excellent credentials earned at universities across Canada and international institutions including Harvard, Johns Hopkins, the London School of Economics, MIT, and Northwestern University. We are also delighted to welcome distinguished visitors including:

Andy Barrie, Distinguished Scholar in Residence, Faculty of Communication & Design
http://www.ryerson.ca/news/news/General_Public/20100910_barrie.html

Stephen Lewis, Professor of Distinction, Faculty of Arts, and Faculty of Community Services
http://www.ryerson.ca/news/news/General_Public/20100915_lewis.html;

Gerri Sinclair, Distinguished Visiting Professor and special advisor on digital media http://www.ryerson.ca/ryersontoday/stories/20100908_sinclair.html

Royal Society of Canada – Two Ryerson scholars have been elected Fellows of the Royal Society of Canada: Professor Marta Braun was elected a Fellow of the Academy of the Arts and Humanities, and Dr. Anastasios Venetsanopoulos was elected a Fellow of the Academy of Sciences. We are very proud to express congratulations and best wishes.

Fall Convocation – Members of Senate are invited to participate in the Fall 2010 Convocation ceremonies on Tuesday, October 19th and Wednesday October 20th, celebrating student achievement. An honorary Doctor of Laws degree will be conferred on the Rt. Hon. Beverley McLachlin, Chief Justice of Canada, at the Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Community Services convocation ceremony on the morning of October 20th.

Faculty Teaching Chairs – This Fall, Ryerson's first Faculty Teaching Chairs – Alan Sears (Sociology), Frankie Stewart (Mechanical and Industrial Engineering), Tetyana Antimirova (Physics), Ken Grant (TRSIM), Elaine Frankel (ECE), Marsha Barber (Journalism), and Don Kinder (Library) – take up their important roles. They will each chair a Faculty Teaching Committee of school and department representatives to share ideas and advice, and also serve on a university advisory committee to the Learning and Teaching Office (LTO).

Centre for Urban Energy (CUE) – On September 1st Ryerson announced the creation of the Centre for Urban Energy, dedicated to discovery and commercial innovation. Representatives of the three founding sponsors – Laura Formusa, president and CEO, Hydro One Networks Inc.; Colin Andersen, CEO, Ontario Power Authority; and Anthony Haines, president and CEO, Toronto Hydro Corporation – were joined on campus by the Honourable Brad Duguid, Ontario Minister of Energy. The three founding sponsors will contribute up to $7 million over five years, with funding for research projects, student awards and bursaries, and distinguished fellows from industry and academia. (http://www.ryerson.ca/news/news/General_Public/20100901_cue.html).

Accreditation –

Architecture: The Master of Architecture program has been granted the maximum term (3 years) of initial accreditation by the Canadian Architectural Certification Board. This decision is especially significant as the M.Arch. is only the 11th program in Canada, and the first in 35 years, to achieve professional status.

Interior Design: The Bachelor of Interior Design program was awarded accreditation for a term of six years effective July 2010 by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA). The congratulatory letter indicated that the ‘award of CIDA accreditation attests to the quality of your interior design program, meets the rigor of peer review, and develops the skills and knowledge required to practice interior design.’

New Doctoral Programs - The Ontario Council on Graduate Studies has approved three new Ryerson doctoral programs notable for their interdisciplinary focus: Computer Science (Intelligence and Robotics; Computer Communications Networks), Molecular Science (Materials, Surfaces and Interfaces; Molecular Biosciences), and Physics (Biomedical Physics). Pending approval of the Ryerson Board of Governors and the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities, program launch is expected in Fall 2011.

Enrolment –

Undergraduate: Student demand continues very strong, with over 67,000 applications for 6,350 first year places. Secondary school applications rose 1.1% over last year. The university is on target for its planned enrolment levels for this Fall. Total undergraduate full-time equivalent enrolment is estimated to be 25,200, up 2% over the previous year.

Graduate: We had 5,546 applications (up 12% from last year), with 1,154 offers accepted, and are on target for planned enrolment levels with about 2,200 students this Fall (up 3% from Fall 2009). Enrolments include students in three new Master's programs (Fashion, Philosophy, and Professional Communication) and one new Doctoral program (Economics).

Search Committees – Searches for senior academic administration positions are now underway – for Vice-President, Research and Innovation (VPRI), and three deans – for the Faculty of Arts, Faculty of Community Services, and the School of Graduate Studies – in accordance with established policy and procedures. These are very important decisions for the university, and thanks and appreciation are extended to members of the community for their willingness to invest the time and involvement required to serve.

Ryerson Academic Structure – Acting on the report of the Provost's Commission on Academic Structures submitted earlier this year, the Provost and Vice-President Academic has established a committee chaired by Dean Emeritus Maurice Yeates to develop a proposal for a Faculty of Science. The committee's work will begin in mid-October, and the process will involve extensive community consultation in the preparation of a report anticipated during the winter 2011 term.

Research Notes –

Undergraduate Research Opportunities (URO): This summer the new URO program offered 66 undergraduate students from various programs across campus the chance to work with faculty on research projects. Aimed at encouraging students to consider graduate school in their academic future, the program was exceptionally successful, with a number of students authoring papers and making presentations and poster submissions based on their work. Stories highlighting the program can be found at http://www.ryerson.ca/news/news/General_Public/20100820_fcad.html,

Social Science and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC): More than $1.1 million has been awarded to 18 Ryerson researchers in the latest round of competitions. These excellent results are notable for the broad range of disciplines being funded and success in several SSHRC programs. (See http://www.ryerson.ca/news/news/General_Public/20100903_sshrc.html).

Terry Fox New Frontiers Program in Cancer Research: Professors Michael Kolios and Raffi Karshafian of the Department of Physics are co-investigators on a project awarded $2.7 million over three years by the Terry Fox Foundation, in the 30th anniversary year of the Terry Fox Marathon of Hope. The project, based at Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre and led by principal investigator and Ryerson adjunct professor Greg Czarnota, is called Ultrasound for Cancer Therapy, and also involves researchers from the University of Toronto.

2010 United Way campaign – The annual Ryerson United Way campaign has been launched with an ambitious target of $180,000, a 14% increase building on the success of last year's campaign that raised over $158,000. The generosity of the Ryerson community recognizes that city-building includes helping others through the 200 health and social service agencies that are part of the United Way.

Advancement – Outstanding Ryerson alumni will be honoured on September 30th as part of the 2010 Alumni Weekend program. The awards recognize outstanding Ryerson graduates who have not only excelled in their careers, but have made a significant contribution to their professions, community and country. More details on the award recipients can be found on the Ryerson website at <http://www.ryerson.ca/alumni/alumniawardsnight/>.

Report of the Senate Priorities Committee
October 5, 2010
F2010-1

1. Senate Discussion Topics 2010-11
 - a. Interdisciplinary, Multidisciplinary and Transdisciplinary Programming
 - b. Differentiating Ryerson
 - c. Establishing a Faculty of Science
2. Motions approved by Senate Priorities Committee in Summer 2010 with respect to Senate Policy 46: Policy on Undergraduate Grading, Promotion and Academic Standing (memo attached).

The review of Policy 46 has been referred to the Academic Policy and Governance Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

Sheldon Levy, Chair, for the Committee

D. Checkland, K. Jones, M. Kolios, M. Lefebvre, N.M. Lister, A. Mitchell, D. Schulman, A. Shepard, P. Stenton, C. Sule, N. Thomlinson, A. West

To: Members, Senate Priorities Committee
From: Diane Schulman, Secretary of Senate
Date: July 22, 2010

We are asking the Senate Priorities Committee to grant an exception to an aspect of Policy 46 (the GPA Policy) on a pilot basis and to support a review of the policy in Fall 2010.

Motions

Motion 1. That the Senate Priorities Committee approves, on behalf of Senate, an exception to Policy 46 such that courses taken by Fresh Start Pilot Program students only be eligible for degree credit. This exception would be granted on a pilot basis only for F/W 2010/2011.

Motion 2. That the Senate Priorities Committee approves, on behalf of Senate, that the Academic Governance and Policy Committee of Senate commence a review of Policy 46 starting in Fall 2010.

Background

In May 2010 over 600 first-year Ryerson students became Required to Withdraw (RTW). A pilot program called the "Fresh Start Pilot Program" (FSPP) has been designed to help first-year RTW students re-build their academic credibility, explore new program options and to provide them with supports to come to terms with academic and other challenges. The FSPP includes, among other components, two academic courses chosen from program-approved lists.

Rationale for the Request for an Exception

Under Policy 46, the academic courses taken by Fresh Start students cannot be counted towards degree credit. This raises a number of difficulties including:

1. Impact on students. The program will have more value in eyes of the students/parents/guardians if students obtain credit for the courses.
2. Fairness. If a student takes a course in Fresh Start, does well in the course and then gets reinstated, it seems unfair if he/she would have to take the course again to get credit for it.
3. There are real costs related to implementing FSPP and government grants only come to Ryerson if the courses taken are "for credit". Without these funds, there will be significant constraints on the resources available to cover the incremental costs of FSPP. These constraints may undermine the program's positive impact for students.

Apart from this exception, all other aspects of Policy 46 remain the same. There is no guarantee of reinstatement/admission, all academic decisions remain in the hands of the programs and reinstatement/admission decisions are not appealable.

Granting credit on a pilot basis for FSPP students only would strengthen the Fresh Start pilot and provide our students with additional supports for academic success.

Report of the Academic Governance and Policy Committee
#F2010-01
October 5, 2010

1. Composition of ad hoc Committee to:

- Review Policy 46: Policy on Undergraduate Grading, Promotion, and Academic Standing (The "GPA Policy") <http://www.ryerson.ca/senate/policies/pol46.pdf> with a report to Senate by December 2010.
- Review the "Fresh Start" program and provide a preliminary report to Senate by May, 2011.

The Academic Governance and Policy Committee has established the following committee to review Policy 46, as agreed to by the Senate Priorities Committee in its approved motions dated July 22, 2011, and the "Fresh Start" Program instituted for Fall 2010 as a result of those motions.

Chris Evans, Vice Provost Academic (Chair)

Keith Alnwick, Registrar

REPORT OF ACADEMIC STANDARDS COMMITTEE

Report #F2010-1; October 2010

In this report Academic Standards Committee (ASC) brings to Senate its evaluation and recommendation on the following proposals:

- Curriculum changes in the Bachelor of Social Work program.
- Curriculum changes in the Public Administration and Governance program.
- The G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education: Course reductions in the Environmental Engineering Science, Fundamental in Interior Design and Gerontology certificate programs.

Further documentation on the items addressed in this and all other ASC reports is available for review through the Secretary of Senate.

1. Social Work: Curriculum Changes

The School of Social Work (SSW) offers a four-year undergraduate curriculum leading to a Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree. The School has undertaken a review of its curriculum, a process motivated by commentary from the Canadian Association for Social Work Education (the national social work accreditation body) and by input from program students. The proposed changes have been evaluated during two School curriculum retreats. They have been endorsed by the Program Advisory Council of the SSW.

The objectives of the proposed changes are to (i) eliminate excessive redundancy/repetition in the BSW curriculum and (ii) to lighten the course load in second year. The current second year load is 6 + 6 courses. The current first year required foundation courses SWP 130 and SWP 131 include material covered in subsequent courses. While this would be expected of foundation courses, both accreditation review and student feedback have suggested that the degree of repetition that currently exists is excessive. In the view of the School, the current level of repetition, rather than helping students understand core issues, exposes students to too much detail too early in their program.

A summary of the proposed changes is given below. Appendix 1 provides the complete revised curriculum.

- The first semester course SWP 130 Foundations of Social Work I will be revised to eliminate redundancy and provide a more compelling introduction to social work. At the recommendation of Curriculum Advising, the course will be renumbered (SWP 1xx)
- The second semester course SWP 131 Foundations of Social Work II will be deleted.
- The third semester professional course SWP 331 Social Work Theories of Practice will be repositioned to semester 2.
- One professionally-related course in Year 2 will be deleted.

The first two changes serve to reduce redundancy in foundation material while the second two changes reduce the year two course load from 6 + 6 to 5 + 5. Movement of SWP 331 to year one also provides students with deeper insight into social work theories at an earlier stage of their program than is the case with the current curriculum.

Recommendation

Having satisfied itself of the merit of this proposal, ASC recommends:

That Senate approve the proposed curriculum changes in the Bachelor of Social Work Program.

2. Public Administration and Governance: Curriculum Changes

The part-time degree program in Public Administration and Governance consists of three separate, but interrelated levels of study that allow students to set their own educational goals. Students may apply to graduate with a Certificate after completing Level-1 (8 courses), with an Advanced Certificate after completing Level-2 (8 courses) and with a Bachelor of Arts Degree after completing Level -3 (17–24 courses). Each level features a mix of program courses in Canadian politics and public administration, complemented by professionally-related and liberal studies courses.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration undertook a review of the program to ensure that it continues to meet the needs of program students and to make it attractive to a growing number of potential students. Overall, the program meets its objectives, but it was found that more flexibility would provide greater ability to complete the program. Most of the program courses are offered only in the evening (there are some exceptions), and most of the students who take them are mature students, many of whom are juggling jobs and family commitments as they pursue their education.

A summary of the proposed changes is given below. Appendix 2 provides the complete revised curriculum.

- Insofar as possible, Public Administration and Governance program courses will be designated as PPA courses in order to be consistent and to show that these courses are integral to the program.
- PPA courses will be renumbered to be representative of their level.

Level-1 (Certificate in Public Administration and Governance)

- The required course POL 332 will be renumbered and re-titled as PPA 120 Canadian Politics & Government and will be offered as an elective in Level-1 and Level-2.
- The course POG 315 Equity and Human Rights will be renumbered as PPA 125, will be offered in the evening through the Chang School, and will remain part of the degree and certificate programs. POG 315 will continue to be part of the Politics and Governance program and will be offered during the day. The evening course will be very similar (and an anti-requisite), but will ensure a focus on government institutions created to “protect” equity and human rights.
- The course POG 440 Aboriginal Governance/Justice will be renumbered and re-titled as PPA 124 Aboriginal Politics and Governance; it will be offered in the evening through the First Nations partnership at the introductory level. POG 440 will continue to be part of the Politics and Governance program as a 4th year elective.

Level-2 (Advanced Certificate in Public Administration and Governance)

- The course POG 230 will be renumbered and re-titled as PPA 333 Research Methods in Public Administration and will be repositioned from Level-2 to Level-3. It will be offered only in the evening. Thus, this course will no longer be required of students wishing only to achieve the Advanced Certificate, but would remain required of those students wishing to complete the degree program.

- PPA 623 Public Policy will be preserved as a required course but will be renumbered as PPA 211.
- PPA 525 Theories of the State will be renumbered as PPA 235 and added to a list of professional electives.
- POG 319 Politics of Work and Labour would be renumbered as PPA 319 and be added to the list of professional electives. The revised course will refocus on issues involving labour in the public sector.
- PPA 600 Financial Management will be renumbered as PPA 303 and be added to the list of professional electives.
- PPA 703 and PPA 705 will continue to be offered only through the First Nations partnership.
- The required professionally-related category designed to require an introduction to Economics will be expanded.

Level-3 (BA in Public Administration and Governance)

- Level-3 will include three distinct options: Research Paper, Practicum and Practicum-First Nations.
- Courses will be renumbered to reflect 3rd and 4th year levels.
- The existing “Required Group-2” courses will be reconfigured to delete the introductory courses and replace them with relevant 3rd and 4th year courses from the Politics and Governance program.
- Practicum Option: In order to be eligible to enrol in the Practicum (PPA 50A/B), students must have a minimum of two years of appropriate work experience in the public, para-public, or non-profit sectors, and must have their application approved by the Practicum Committee.
- Practicum-First Nations Option: The eligibility of First Nations students admitted through the First Nations partnership to enrol in the Practicum (PPA 50A/B) will be established as an admission criterion. Therefore, all students admitted through the partnership will be eligible to enrol in PPA 50A/B (formerly PPA 30A/B)
- All students who are accepted into the Practicum Options will be exempt from the Required Group-4 requirement in the Research Paper Option, and will have to take only two professionally-related courses.

Recommendation

Having satisfied itself of the academic merit of this proposal, ASC recommends:

That Senate approve the proposed curriculum changes in the Public Administration and Governance program.

3. Continuing Education: Certificate Revisions

The Chang School has recently reviewed a number of existing certificate programs. This review has identified certificate programs that may benefit from curriculum revisions and structural changes to promote completion within a more condensed time frame through a reduction in required courses and the adoption of more flexible course delivery options. In particular, the Chang School proposes the following changes:

- Certificate in Environmental Engineering Science: Reduction in the number courses required for the certificate from eight (four required and four elective) to six courses (four required and two electives).
- Certificate in Fundamentals in Interior Design: Reduction in the number courses required for the certificate from nine (eight required and one elective) to seven courses (four required and three electives);
- Certificate in Gerontology: Reduction in the number courses required for the certificate from eight (four required and four elective) to six courses (four required and two electives);

Appendix 3 provides the revised curricula of these certificate programs.

Recommendation

Having satisfied itself of the merit of this proposal, ASC recommends:

That Senate approve the proposed changes in the Environmental Engineering Science, Fundamental in Interior Design and Gerontology certificate programs.

Re: Follow up on May 12 Report on Accommodation of Student Religious, Aboriginal and Spiritual Observance

Date: September 14, 2010

I am writing further to my May 12 report outlining community feedback received in the past year regarding the revised policy on Accommodation of Student Religious, Aboriginal and Spiritual Observance.

I am pleased to confirm that, pursuant to community feedback outlined in the report, we have provided advance notice to students and instructors on observances which occur very early in the semester, particularly in the first two weeks. This took the form of 2 email messages to both students and instructors as well as information on the web. The objective of the messages was to alert students and instructors to observances early in the semester. Web materials provide information on observances which will occur throughout the academic year at the following URL: <http://www.ryerson.ca/equity/calendar/>

Based on feedback received from the community, it also appears that concerns the new policy might lead to abuse were unfounded.

Re: Report to Senate on Accommodation of Student Religious, Aboriginal and Spiritual Observance

Date: May 12, 2010

1. Background

In Spring 2008, an Ad Hoc Committee on Student Religious Observance submitted a report describing religious observance of Ryerson students. At an October 2008 meeting, a Senate committee was struck to review Ryerson policy #150 on Accommodation of Student Religious Observance Obligations. The committee's task was to present recommendations for policy changes to the Secretary of Senate by the May 2009 Senate meeting. At the May 5, 2009 meeting of Senate, revisions to Policy #150 were approved including a renaming of the Policy to Accommodation of Student Religious , Aboriginal and Spiritual Observance. The revised policy appears at <http://www.ryerson.ca/senate/policies/pol150.pdf>. A motion was also approved that "a review of experience with policy timelines be carried out after one year with a report to Senate in Fall 2010."

2. Experience in 2009/2010

During the course of the 2009-2010 academic year, students and instructors were invited to contact either the Registrar or the Office of Discrimination and Harassment Prevention Services in the event they encountered problems with the new policy and/or the new timelines . There was one concern expressed from the Muslim Students Association regarding the change to Policy 150. They were concerned that because both Ramadan and Eid occurred very early in September 2010, many first year students may have been unaware of the policy requirement to request accommodation. No other expressions of concern or difficulty were received.

3. Future Steps for 2010-2011

In light of the concern expressed regarding observance which may occur early in the new school year, it is proposed that proactive steps be taken to alert all students and instructors to pending observance issues that will arise in September 2010. Appendix 1 provides relevant information on Rosh Hashanah, Eid ul-Fitr and Yom Kippur. Information on these festivals and Ryerson policy on Accommodation of Student Religious, Aboriginal and Spiritual Observance will be included in communications to students and instructors and will be incorporated into information provided to students and instructors with the release of fall 2010 schedules. A core element of communication will be that there may be students who may miss the first or second classes of their Fall courses as a result of observance and who will not have had an opportunity to signal their observance in advance to their instructor. Instructors will be encouraged to bear this in mind when preparing plans for their fall semester courses.

Selected Religious Observance Obligations

September 2010

In Fall 2010 there will be three religious observances which will occur very early in the first two weeks of the academic year. Relevant information is as follows:

Rosh Hashanah: The Jewish New Year

When: Sunset of Wednesday September 8 through nightfall of Friday September 10, 2010.

Implications: Observant Jewish students may require accommodation to not attend school during Rosh Hashanah and should not be academically penalized as required by law. Faculty should make all materials and course curriculums available to all students for a two week period. Blackboard may be an appropriate avenue to put this information on-line.

Eid ul-Fitr: Marks the end of the month-long fast of Ramadan

When: Sundown of Thursday September 9 through to Friday September 10, 2010

Implications: Observant Muslim students may require accommodation to not attend school during Eid ul-Fitr and should not be academically penalized as required by law.

Yom Kippur: The Day of Atonement

When: Sunset of Friday September 17 through nightfall of Saturday September 18, 2010

Implications: Observant Jewish students may require accommodation to not attend school during Yom Kippur and should not be academically penalized as required by law.
